Principal's Message

A PREDICTION

Victoria Composite is a city center school with a decreasing day school population within its boundaries. This decrease is going to become more and more apparent as the city ceases to grow. This year Edmonton only grew by approximately 850 people, while the surrounding districts grew by more than 10,000. The school populations will be affected at all levels and in order to maintain populations in the other city schools a system of "phasing out" of day school students will have to take place at Victoria Composite and students will be bused to schools outside of their own school boundaries.

Adult Education will continue to be a major concern in our society and since Victoria Composite is favourably located as a City Centre school and is easily accessible from all parts of the city, it will become the natural center for Continuing Education.

Three reasons for Adults to be concerned with Continuing Education could be: (1) Many have found that a High School Diploma is almost a necessity for promotion in most jobs. (2) With the work week becoming shorter and shorter many people will find they have much time on their hands and will turn to Continuing Education to give them General Interest courses and re-training programs. (3) The age of retirement is rapidly decreasing and the life expectancy of people is increasing and therefore many people will turn to Continuing Education to provide them with Recreational training. I, therefore, see the kinds of courses offered as being much more than regular high school programs, which will include upgrading, retraining, recreation, general interest and some university courses as a few examples.

You are in the position now to take advantage of the opportunities available to you at Victoria Composite, so why not become involved in as many areas as possible, both in the curricular and extracurricular fields.

Editor's Message

Ha! That's a laugh! Just because I was appointed Editor of this mess, it is automatically assumed that I have something to say. Messages in the yearbook are alright for big wheels like Terriff (see page 3), but why me? I'm just a tender child of 17!

As of now, I have gone through 12 years of school with frustrated urges to express myself, and now, I have nothing to say. It's just as well, though, because I doubt anyone will even bother to read this page anyway, excluding the poor schnook at the publisher's who has to type it up.

I suppose all I can do is to apologize for some of the mess this book is in. To those who get the correct name beside their picture, thank pure blind luck. Another small defect is, that due to a lack of pictures (what happened to all the great photographers of Vic?) we managed to end up with a bunch of pages short on the second and third deadlines, and two days late on the first deadline. With the help of a miracle, this book will be out on time.

Although apathy struck most of Vic this year, the yearbook was spared. All the people which started, stayed. Eight hard working people have done their best to compile this book, often staying until past five at night to complete pages. Even with this on our good side, there was more work than could be handled properly. Also, the fact that seven of the eight people had not worked on a book before and a lot was to be learned.

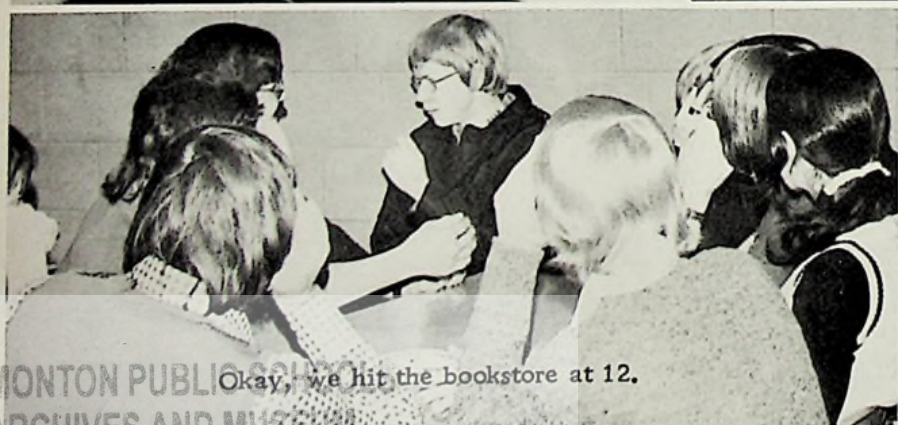

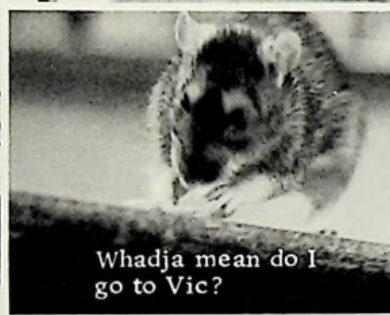

When finally you get your yearbook, please do not decide to react by forming a lynch mob and going out to get the staff. We all tried our best and we thank those of you who appreciate this book - both of you.

Love and peace,

Stewart Cusator

Non-Conformist

- Unit 1 — Shakespeare's Questions
1. Have you noticed, in Shakespeare's plays, when people said they saw a ghost they usually did? Were people more trustworthy in those days? Were ghosts?
  2. How long can you discuss Rosencrantz without mentioning Guildenstern, and vice versa?
  3. What did Queen Gertrude see in King Claudius anyway?
  4. Where did Polonius spend his time when he was not ealiking behind an arrest?
  5. Consider the effect on Ophelia's future if she had known how to smile.

JOURNÉE FRANÇAIS

French Day, put on by the French Department and the French Classes of the first semester, was held on January 9, 1974. Events included a show in the auditorium featuring talents from various French classes, a French restaurant in room 119, and the West Cafeteria cooked up an assortment of French food for lunch. Thanks to Mr. Ferguson, Mrs. Soderstrom and the French Classes, it was a very enjoyable presentation.
